

The Biden Administration

Let us first take stock of where we are politically in America.

1. We have endured a biological attack by China for the past 11 months in the form of the Wuhan virus. Fortunately we had President Donald "America First" Trump in office who was able to organize the government bureaucrats and the smart people in the research community to develop a vaccine in record time, something that very few people thought was possible, given the standard interval is about five years. The media claimed he was a fool to even try it.
2. All summer long, Black Lives Matter and ANTIFA led "mostly peaceful protests", mostly involving burning down police stations, federal courthouses, and many businesses, while the local police stood by and the Democratic leadership endorsed, encouraged, and applauded these street armies. The local politicians only allowed the police to arrest a handful of them, and few were prosecuted. The media made the appropriate excuses for these Marxist mobs.
3. The governments of many states, mostly led by Democrats, decided to use the Wuhan virus to shut down their local economies, ruining many businesses and putting many out of work. At first it was to "bend the curve" of infections, but it soon became a test of how much tyranny the public is willing to put up with. The real goal, as always, was to somehow make the federal administration look bad. The media made the appropriate accusations against Mr. Trump.
4. The Democrat Party abused the judicial system during the summer of 2020, using the Wuhan virus as an excuse to obtain decrees on voting procedures that superseded the powers of the State legislatures. This happens to be unconstitutional, since Article 2 of the Constitution clearly states that only a State legislature can enact electoral laws. The objective, as we saw in November 2020, was to deluge the electoral system with fraudulent mail-in ballots that could not be verified. That is how the Democrats got Joe "Wimpy" Biden elected President. The media defended the unconstitutional activities of the judicial activists who ignored the Constitution.
5. A great many affidavits attesting to electoral fraud were received and Republicans brought them to both state and federal courts, but all of those challenges were rejected on procedural grounds. No evidence was ever examined by any of the courts (as far as I know). The Republican lawyers made a huge error in not demanding that all the evidence be preserved for future examination, including the ballots, signature cards, voter rolls, and time-tagged tallies in the voting machines. It is tantamount to a baseball batter bragging that he will hit a grand slam on the first pitch, without bothering to check if there are any guys on base. That error allowed the Democrats to destroy all the evidence; now it is impossible to prove the veracity of the affidavits; we will never know how much fraud there was. We now have six or seven States that run Presidential elections the way local elections are run in Chicago and Philadelphia. The media demonized anyone who believed that something was not right.
6. A rally was held on 6 Jan 2021, in which Mr. Trump listed the various ways in which the election results were questionable, and then encouraged the attendees to peacefully protest in front of Congress. Congress was at that time certifying Mr. Biden's election. But ANTIFA members and a handful of not-too-bright Trump supporters engaged in a BLM/ANTIFA-style mostly peaceful protest at the Capitol, involving breaking windows, smashing down doors, and occupying Congressional offices. A total of five people died: a police officer from head injuries, a protester from gunshots, and three others of "medical complications". The electoral balloting had to be stopped, and the members of Congress had to be led to a safe place until the Capitol police could remove the retards. Now here is an important insight: all summer long, the Democrats in Congress praised the actions of the "mostly peaceful protestors" around the country who invaded people's places of business, robbed them, and burned them to the ground. Millions of Americans were inconvenienced for months by the BLM/ANTIFA mostly peaceful protests. But, when the same tactics were employed against their (Congress') place of business, inconveniencing them for a few hours, it's an "insurrection". Poor babies; but I doubt they will get much sympathy. The media chanted "Trump led a coup, Trump supporters are guilty of sedition and insurrection", right on cue.

7. The tech giants Amazon (led by Jeff "I own that too" Bezos), Google (led by Sundar Pichai), Facebook (led by Mark "Junior High" Zuckerberg), Instagram (owned by Facebook), YouTube (owned by Google), and Twitter (led by Jack Dorsey) have banned most conservatives (defined as anyone who is not a card-carrying Democrat) from their platforms on the grounds that conservatives are a general menace to society. They even managed to put PARLER (a competitor to Twitter) out of business. The media approved of the suppression of free speech.

8. Today the Democrats impeached Mr. Trump for "inciting a riot", despite there not being a single sentence in his speech that called for one. Maybe he should have called for a mostly peaceful protest. The media will brag how they won the revolution.

So, to summarize, as is typical in revolutions:

1. Pressure from below by the BLM and ANTIFA street armies.
2. Pressure from above by the suppression of speech by the tech monopolies, doing indirectly what the government cannot do directly -- on behalf of the Democrats.

That is where we are. What happens when Mr. Joe "Wimpy" Biden takes office on 20 Jan 2021? The Democrats will take the opportunity to suppress the Constitution specifically and the rule of law in general; take away as many civil rights as possible; promote the interests of their favorites; demonize and ridicule their enemies (real and imagined); and attempt to acquire absolute power over everyone's life. The Democratic Party consists of vengeful, implacable, vindictive, hateful, hypocritical, arrogant know-it-alls, just like the "cool kids" back in junior high school. Watch out: people who have never graduated from junior high at an emotional level will now be running the country. How do we know Mr. Biden is a wimp? The same way as in junior high: the kid who always swaggered around, talking tough, but scared to death of being challenged to prove it. Unfortunately, as in junior high, the big talk may be enough to ward off any common sense ideas.
